DJ Heisenberg (AU)

Full-time PM, part-time DJ, lifelong music enthusiast mixing the best new Melodic and Progressive House. Also known to dabble with old cars and new bikes

Biography

Aliases: DJ Heisenberg, The Other Kiwi

DJ Heisenberg is a genre-blending Australian artist known for his emotionally resonant and harmonically rich sets that traverse the spectrum of melodic house, progressive rhythms, and deep techno textures. With a background in project management and a lifelong passion for music, he brings a meticulous, narrative-driven approach to every mix — crafting sonic journeys that are both technically refined and deeply immersive. His signature series, Heisenberg ###, showcases a rotating palette of moods — from euphoric sunrise progressions to introspective chill house and late-night techno. Whether performing live at events like Valley Vibez or curating mixes for digital platforms, Heisenberg maintains a consistent ethos: music should move you, not just make you move. Also known as The Other Kiwi, he’s a regular contributor to Australia’s underground electronic scene, with a growing international following on SoundCloud and YouTube. Outside the booth, he’s a tinkerer — equally at home restoring vintage cars or exploring new bike trails, always chasing the next creative spark.
