Zoe

Melbourne-based DJ and producer weaving hypnotic techno and progressive grooves into immersive dancefloor journeys □□□

Biography

Zoe (real name Zoe Neilson) is a DJ and producer from Melbourne, Australia, known for her deep, hypnotic approach to techno and progressive house^1. Her sets are characterized by fluid transitions, layered textures, and a focus on journey-driven storytelling, often blending bush techno influences with melodic and peak-time elements.

She has steadily built her reputation in the Australian underground scene, performing at clubs and festivals across Victoria and beyond. Zoe's Instagram and Linktree highlight her active presence in Melbourne's electronic community, with performances at both intimate club nights and larger outdoor events^1.

Her productions and mixes reflect a balance of groove and atmosphere, drawing inspiration from the natural landscapes of Australia's outdoor festival culture. With a growing following on SoundCloud and Spotify, Zoe continues to expand her reach, aligning with labels and collectives that champion forward-thinking techno and progressive sounds^2.
